Liturgical Tidbits

Along with so many technological breakthroughs have come many resources for people to get information, including information about the Faith.

For instance, the readings at Mass can be found online, with the use of apps on smartphones and tablets and of course in the printed missals in the pews. But lest we forget the readings at Mass were meant to be heard. As we talked about before, in the context of the liturgy, the proclamation of the Word is nothing less than God talking to His people. As a priest, I am thrilled people want to follow the Mass and the readings. Some need to since they are hard of hearing. If possible, I want to invite you to listen to the readings and prayers next time you attend a Mass or a liturgy. Let God speak to your heart and see where He might be leading you as His sacred words are uttered.

Dear family, I would ask your prayers this week as I go on retreat. Each year Church law (Canon law) asks those who are ordained to go on a five day retreat. I will be retreating this year with our New Mexico Norbertines at Santa Maria de La Vid Abbey in Albuquerque. I ask for your prayers that this may be a time of spiritual insight and holy enlightenment so I may be a better pastor to all of you. Due to my retreat, our deacons will be leading communion services at the normal times in all the normal places. So same bat channel, same bat time! In our second reading today, St. Paul reminds us that "we are not debtors to the flesh, to live according the flesh." Now when St. Paul mentions "flesh", he is not referring to our physical bodies, for these too are made by God and made to be holy. Rather our "flesh" is that deficiency we have as humans to tend toward sin when tempted. Far from being just illicit action, sin, defined in this way, is anything that prevents us from living our baptismal call, anything which prevents us from being fully human. Let us reject those things which hinder the freedom Christ has won for us! God bless you all, have a good week. Reverend Father Daniel J. Gutierrez
